

SupportArea

We at , the "company behind Askemos", are keen to provide any kind of help and partnership for commercial projects.

Meet us on channel #askemos at irc.pitcom.net .

To support the development of Askemos we offer a complete evaluation version, including full source code and all development tools we use ourself, for 10,- ¤ (including shipping within Europe, please inquire for oversea rates).

Installed on this CDROM is the whole askemos.org web site and some more applications, which are not available online. It is based on the Ubuntu boot system and our own selection of debian packages, featuring network connectivity, office tools and our development environment at the expense of games and gimmicks. You can use it safely to run and test Askemos on any standard PC without any installation on hard disk and no prior knowledge at all, or install on your hardware, which will require minor Linux knowledge.

Hardware requirements (recommended): CPU 500MHz, RAM 256MiB only for optional hard disk installation: 3.5GB.

We lost the development machine to a lightning. Since we are not fully satisfied with knoppix as the base system, we'll consider other options. Until we recover, our CDROM is not available.
